

Jeanette Gurrola joined CGU in 2006 as the Institutional Research Officer. Her educational background includes a B.A. in Economics and an M.A. in Demography and Social Analysis, both received from the University of California, Irvine. During school, Jeanette's research primarily focused in on higher education, thus her draw to work in the educational field.