

How does the Office of Career Management help me find an internship?

The process of finding the right internship has many of the same components of the full time job search and can be just as rigorous. In some ways, internships can offer a greater challenge because many students desire experience outside of the industries or economic sectors where they have the most experience.

If you choose to work with the Office of Career Management as you search for the right internship, we will help you address some of the issues specific to competing for the opportunity that meets your needs. For example:

- Identifying existing internships related to your field of endeavor
- Creating internship opportunities by developing a marketing and networking plan
- Helping you determine the optimal time of year for your internship
- Using an internship as a stepping stone to full time employment
- Targeting organizations that make sense for your internship based on your professional goals
- Addressing obstacles that may prevent you from obtaining the internship of your choice
- Developing strategies that provide more than one internship option for you

The Office of Career Management helps CGU students obtain internships by:

- Encouraging employers and alumni who have a track record of hiring or networking with CGU students to provide internship opportunities
- Providing you with access to materials, databases and websites that are a source of career information and internship leads
- Engaging in a consultative relationship with you that is highly individualized and flexible, depending upon which aspects of the internship search are most important to your success
